DENTAL CARD.
Dr. J. F. BABCOCK
Surgeon Dentist,
Nos. 2 & 3 Kenduskeag Block,
Takes much pleasure in informing the public that, since the 1st of September, 1871, he has permanently saved from immediate extraction, over two hundred Teeth, which were aching in all degrees of intensity—teeth which it has been heretofore considered could only obtain relief through the aid of the Forceps. I continue to urge the necessity of more care being devoted to the natural teeth, and that with many, the contingency of being forced to wear artificial substitutes be viewed with less complacency. To those who have read my former advertisements upon this subject, with any skepticism whatever, (and I am aware there were many,) I refer them to the following testimonials, which are a few among many.

From T. G. Stickney, Esq.
Having a tooth which was aching most severely I applied to Dr. Babcock for relief, which he afforded me almost immediately, much to my satisfaction.

From J. O. B. Darling, Esq.
I take pleasure in saying that Dr. Babcock has succeeded in curing an ulcerated tooth for me which I had believed to be past redemption.

From General Daniel White.
Dr. Babcock has effectually cured a badly aching tooth for me by a short course of treatment which had the further merit of being painless. Said tooth was in a state of ulceration, and very much decayed indeed, but is now as good as any I possess. I would advise the skeptical to try for themselves.

From Ruel W. Kimball, firm of Kimball & Sanford.
Dr. Babcock has treated and permanently saved two aching teeth for me, besides filling and saving several others which I had neglected, believing that they were too badly decayed to be filled, and that extraction was the only remedy, whereas I have them now apparently as serviceable as any I possess. I cannot too highly recommend Dr. Babcock as a dentist since his efforts are earnestly directed towards saving the natural teeth from that wholesale extraction so generally practiced.

From Mr. F. A. Woodbury, with B. F. Bradbury.
Having a root of a front tooth in my mouth which was sore and bad by ulceration, I applied to Dr. Babcock for its extraction. Much to my surprise he asked to be allowed to save it. As it was nothing but a root barely protruding from the gum, I naturally felt very skeptical. The result was, however, that he cured the abscess and built upon the root a solid gold crown, this latter operation occupying some nine hours. This was several months since, and it continues to give me great satisfaction since. I use it just exactly as much as I would were it in its original state.

From Mr. F. A. Sawyer, with O. M. Brown.
I cheerfully testify that Dr. Babcock has saved an aching tooth for me which at the time of my application to him was giving me most excruciating pain, and had been for some time. My face was swollen to twice its natural size; the tooth was loose and matter oozing from the gum; being a back tooth made it all the more difficult to treat, yet I have it now (six months later) as sound as any in my mouth.

From Mr. George A. Kirkpatrick, with S. B. Fifield.
Dr. Babcock has in a very short course of treatment thoroughly relieved, and restored to its original healthy state, a tooth which had for some time been causing me intense pain. I cordially recommend him as a dentist who can save an aching tooth.

It would give me pleasure to show other testimonials to any who may desire, if they will call at my office. I have adopted this somewhat extraordinary method of advertising, from the fact that many deny the ability, not of myself merely, but of any dentist, to save an aching tooth, whereas in large cities, and by graduates of a reputable dental colleges everywhere their salvation is far more common than their extraction. So true is this that Professor Atkinson of New York has recently publicly declared, and I am quoting his exact language: "It is a sin and a shame ever to extract a tooth," but which assertion I frankly admit, I cannot wholly endorse, since there are diseases of the teeth, such for instance, as exostosis or enlargement of the root, which will yield only to extraction; but such instances are so extremely rare that I have never encountered but two or three. The ordinary diseases of the teeth are all susceptible of an absolute cure.

TWO PICTURES,

GRANT AND SUMNER.

In the course of Senator Carpenter's review of Sumner's remarkable tirade, he referred to that portion charging the President with self-pretension and arrogance, as follows:—

Mr. President—If the people of the United States could see these men as we see them daily in official and social intercourse. If they could be acquainted, as we are, with their incomings and outgoings, and all their ordinary and daily life, the people would then see the joke to a degree which they never can comprehend without such intimate knowledge.—Sir, go up to the White House any day or any evening, and you see the President of the United States, a mild, gentle-mannered gentleman, accessible to the highest, lowest, richest, poorest, blackest, whitest citizen of the United States, and at any hour of the day, to all men who call on him; sweet as Summer; never alluding to himself; never referring to his achievements in the war. Turn from that picture to the lofty and prancing Senator from Massachusetts, who has just pranced out of the Chamber, [laughter,] and then imagine that Senator in all his pride of circumstance, rising here with a prepared oration and arraigning Gen. Grant for egotism and pretension, and also for a quarrelsome turn of mind. Now, Mr. President here is another point where it is duty to testify. The American people do not know these two men.—They do not know how false in every sense, not only in its letter, but in its spirit, and in all the impressions it is intended and calculated to produce. Their assertions are, "We do know it." I call upon you, Senators, as honorable men. I say you cannot sit here silently and see such a piece of injustice committed in this Chamber. If you do you become a party to it. Your silence gives assent to it, and, in some sense, you give your approbation to that charge to go out against Gen. Grant before the American people.—What are the facts about it? And I speak now of what every man who knows Gen. Grant knows. I was trying, last night, to recall a single instance when, in conversation in regard to the late war, I had heard Gen. Grant allude to himself, and I could not. I have heard him speak in glowing terms of his comrades in arms. I have heard him speak of the exploits of Sherman. I heard him allude to what was done by Logan, by McPherson, and by any number of Generals who served in the army during the war. I never heard him say, speaking of a battle at such a juncture, "I thought I would do so and so," or, "I ordered a battalion this way or that," or, "I turned the scale by such a manœuvre." I never heard him allude to himself in connection with the war in my life. I believe you might go to the White House and spend six weeks with the President, and converse about this war from week to week, and you would never know from anything he said that he ever was in the war at all. Turn now again to his great accuser, the Senator from Massachusetts. Whoever heard him speak five minutes on any subject that he did not glorify himself. [Laughter.] I challenge any man, any friend of his, to go to the library and bring at random any copy of the Congressional Globe and show me five pages of a speech of that Senator that does not praise himself. Why, Sir, in this very speech in which he arraigns Gen. Grant, he commences with glorifying himself. He established the Republican Party, he was the earliest and the most anxious and the most effective of those men who brought it into being, and he prays for its life, less for its own sake, than that he may be spared the sorrow of following its hearse! Sir, the absurdity of this charge, when you consider the two men as we know them, both the accuser and the accused, passes all human understanding, comprehension, or belief. I have heard it said, and I am sorry that that Senator is not here, so that he could correct me if it is not true, that a very estimable lady once wrote to the Senator from Massachusetts invoking his aid for some individual who had a case or a claim before Congress. The Senator wrote back that he was so engrossed in the contemplation of general principles, and so arduously laboring for the welfare of men in general, that he had no time to devote to the wants of individuals. The lady replied to him, thanking him for the civility of his reply, and reminding that, so far as she was informed, he had taken a somewhat loftier attitude than was occupied by the Almighty. [Laughter.] That while he governs the universe, while He rolled the orbs and their spheres, He also attended to the wants of His children, and that not even a sparrow could fall without his knowledge.

WHICH IS THE QUARRELLER?

But another great fault of the President is that he is so quarrelsome. Mr. Sumner says: "Evidently our President has never read the eleventh commandment—'A President of the United States shall never quarrel.'" At least he lives in perpetual violation to it; listening to stories from horse-cars, gobbling the gossip of his military ring, discoursing on imaginary griefs, and nursing his unjust anger. The elect of 40,000,000 of people has no right to quarrel with anybody. His position is too exalted. He cannot do it without offence to the requirements of patriotism, without a jar to the harmony of the universe." Mr. President, it is one of the commonest, but by no no means the greatest, errors into which the Senator from Massachusetts has fallen, that he identifies himself so completely with the universe that he is not at all certain whether he is a part of the universe or the universe is part of him. [Laughter.] He asserts here that when the President quarrels with him (of course that is what he means—he did not mention himself, but he never means anything but himself—and when he was speaking of the President quarrelling, he meant that great quarrel that the President has been made the victim of, and has patiently and quietly submitted to ever since the Senator from Massachusetts turned in wrath upon him and determined to have a quarrel with him)—he says that such a quarrel jars the harmony of the universe. Well, well, the senator from Massachusetts might be jarred a great deal worse than he has been, and the universe not take the slightest notice of it.—[Laughter.] The universe would not tremble if he was used a great deal worse than he has been. This is one of those stupendous, unutterable, inconceivable evidences of the humility of the Senator from Massachusetts, which I wish I could read in the hearing of every man in this land. But, Mr. President, this is not the highest point of the arrogance and cassumption of this paragraph. It is not that he has mistaken himself for the universe that anybody will seriously complain of. But he has taken higher ground. He has risen in this paragraph above the universe. He has seated himself beside the Almighty and entered upon a revision, correction and enlargement of his works. Evidently our President has never read the eleventh commandment. Now, then comes the quotation, from whom? "A President of the U. S., shall never quarrel." This is the addition the Senator from Massachusetts puts into the decalogue; writes into the body of laws given by God to man amid the thunders of Sinai. I hold in my hand the sacred volume which contains the revelations of man's latest existence on earth, and penetrates the veil and records many mysteries beyond. John, on the Island of Patmos, being in the spirit, on the Lord's day, saw many things, clean and unclean.—He saw the Senator from Massachusetts [laughter], and opportunely with a view to prevent the blasphemy which we have repressed in this chamber, at the conclusion of this great volume, which contains the light of our life in this world and our guide to a better abode above, we have written these words of awful condemnation, which I commend to the careful study of the Senator from Massachusetts, if he shall ever come back to the Senate: "For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, if any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book; and if any man shall take away from the words of the prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book." The Senator from Massachusetts, reviser and corrector of the Decalogue, how I regret that you cannot hear this passage of Scripture! [Additional laughter.]—Why if the presumption of the Senator should only reach one button-hole higher, you might find on the book-stalls a work with some such title as this: "The Sermon on the Mount," revised, corrected and greatly enlarged and improved by Charles Sumner. [Laughter.] It would, to be sure, be a slight tampering with the Gospel; but that is what he has done with the decalogue, and the one is as modest, as decorous and as blasphemous as the other. But suppose that on careful investigation of the facts it appears that all the quarrel that existed between the Senator from Massachusetts and the President of the United States is a quarrel made by the Senator, and that it grew out of reasons or motives unworthy of him. I am sorry he is not here, that he might correct me if I am wrong; but I am told that the first trouble that arose between him and the administration was in regard to a great mission. It was filled by a gentleman who performed his duties to the satisfaction of the government, and on the accession of this administration the Senator from Massachusetts demanded that place for a friend of his in Boston, and demanded it upon the ground that that friend had been his life-long friend. It so happened that the administration could not humor the Senator in the matter for reasons that were entirely sufficient. This was the first difficulty. Then came the removal of Mr. Motley as minister to England. That matter was considered in secret session, and I cannot refer to anything that took place. I cannot say whether or not the Senator from Massachusetts in the debate declared that the appointment of Motley had been conceded to him as chairman of the committee of foreign relations. I cannot say whether or not he declared that Motley was his personal friend. I cannot say whether or not he said that, if Motley should be removed, it would be the end of amicable relations between him and this administration, or words to that effect. I cannot say anything at all about it, and I don't intend to.—[Laughter.] But I say, suppose the facts were such as I have stated, or anything approaching them; what would the people of this country think about the Senator that comes in here under these circumstances, accusing the President of being a quarreller, and announcing himself as a champion of civil service reform?

DISINFECTANTS—CARBOLIC ACIDS.

At this season of the year we cannot do a more acceptable service to the public than by publishing the following extract from a report of a commission appointed by the French Academy to investigate and experiment upon the relative merits of various disinfectants for use in various hospitals where contagious diseases are treated:

Hyponitrous Acid the commission argue is awarded the first place among the agents for attacking and destroying infectious germs, but the "extraordinary precautions" which they recommend shows that it would be dangerous to employ this gas in families. The commission therefore recommends the use of Carbolic Acid as cheaper, more easily used, less dangerous, and has proved equally efficacious. It is best employed mixed with sand or sawdust—one pound of acid to three pounds of an indifferent substance. The mixture, placed in earthen vessels, was used for the same purpose as the hyponitrous acid.—Carbolic acid, diluted with fifteen or twenty parts by weight of water, was found useful for daily sprinkling of the floor and bedclothes.

An interesting case is mentioned in the report where neither chlorine nor hypochlorous acid was able to destroy or render odorless the gasses given off from the corpses in the Paris Morgue during the heat of the summer. The object was attained by dissolving a quart of liquid carbolic acid in five hundred gallons of fresh water, contained in the reservoir and used to sprinkle the bodies. Putrefaction was entirely stopped.

Devergie found that water containing only one to four thousand parts of its weight of carbolic acid sufficed to disinfect a dead-house even in the hottest weather, when six or eight corpses were in it.

For fumigating linen, mattresses and other bedding with chlorine, Regnault's latest method was used, namely: One pound of chlorine of lime (bleaching powder) is sewn up in a strong bag of sail cloth, holding about a quart and put in an earthen pot containing a quart of common muriatic acid (sp. gr. 1-15) and three quarts of water. As soon as the acid comes in contact with the chloride of lime the room is closed and the things exposed to the action of chlorine gas for twenty-four hours; and the room is then aired for forty-eight hours. Ten such earthen pots gives off five hundred litres of chlorine sufficient to disinfect from twenty to twenty-five more or less dirty mattresses.

This acid is also admirably adapted to the destruction of insects upon fruit trees, and lice and ticks upon animals of every description. And as the small-pox is being disseminated so widely, it would be good policy of boards of health, township officers and other authorities to have the article prepared for distribution to the poor, and to have places designated where the same could be had in its genuine form.

THE GREAT RAILWAY ENTERPRISE.—The Commissioners appointed to construct the Inter-Colonial Railway, connecting the eastern with the western provinces of the Dominion of Canada, have presented their annual report, through the Minister of Public Works to Parliament. From the report, which sets out in detail the expenditure, the progress made on each section of the work and the fullest particulars in regard to this important public undertaking, it appears that the total expenditure has amounted to $8,641,103, of which $5,075,411 has been made during the fifteen months embraced in the report. A large amount of work during the fifteen months was done by means of employing a large staff of men during the short working season. All the contracts for the twenty-three sections into which the work is divided were being prosecuted, and so rapidly were some of the sections being completed that the commissioners confidently anticipate the completion by the end of the year of a total length of 204 miles, all of which will be in first-class condition to carry traffic, viz: Riviere du Loup to Metepediac road, 86½ miles; Paneic Junction to Amherst, 42 miles; Amherst to Truro 75½ miles. The contracts entered into for rolling stock are for 42 engines, 250 box freight cars, upwards of 300 platform cars and some first and second class cars. The total cost of management has been $70,645; for engineering expenses, $857,203; but considerable reductions had recently been made in the engineering staff; for right of way and expenses connected therewith, $211,979, and on Moncton workshops, $57,315. The commissioners state that the whole of the works have been executed in a very thorough and substantial manner, and it is believed that there is no railway upon this continent upon which the masonry will be superior to it, if it equals that upon the Inter-Colonial. They have every expectation that the line will be in running order by the end of 1873.

STATISTICS OF ODD FELLOWSHIP.—Collected from the records of the Order from organization to July 1, 1871. Number of brothers initiated, 757,941; number of brothers buried 47,019. Total receipts, $40,868,417 [illegible] Amount paid for relief of brothers $12,077,719; amount paid for relief of widows and orphans, $[illegible]; amount paid for burying dead, $2,389,189; total paid for relief, $[illegible] 548,[illegible]. Amount of funds on hand and invested in halls, furniture, etc., $[illegible],170.

On Monday morning between seven and eight o'clock, the large dry-house in the yard of the Franklin Company of Lewiston was discovered to be on fire. The building contained about forty thousand feet of hard pine boards, belonging to the Androscoggin Mills. Less than five hundred feet of the lumber was damaged, and the injury to the building was slight.

CHARLES JAMES LEVER.—The telegraph on Monday brought intelligence of the death at Trieste of Charles Lever, the well known Irish novelist. He was born in Dublin in August 1806, and was therefore in his sixty-sixth year at the time of his death. He obtained a broad education at Dublin and Gottingen, and was admitted to practice as a physician. In 1832 he was appointed as a medical officer, during the prevalence of the cholera in Ireland, and was successful in effecting some remarkable cures. Not in connection with his profession, however, is he most generally known. His success as a novelist eclipsed all other successes of his life; and the broad, genial humor which characterize his writings is such as to commend them, not only to his own countrymen, but to a very large circle of English and American readers. The wit and mirthfulness which pervade his novels, the vivacity and vigor of his descriptions, especially in battle scenes, and the truth and naturalness of his plots, entitle him to rank as the best of the distinctively Irish novelists. "Charles O'Malley" is perhaps the best known and most popular of his novels. "Lord Kilgobbin" is his latest.—Lever served Great Britain long and well as a Consular officer.

National Republican Nominations

FOR PRESIDENT.

ULYSSES S. GRANT,

OF ILLINOIS

FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

HENRY WILSON,

OF MASSACHUSETTS

Republican Caucuses

The Republican voters of Bangor are requested to meet in Caucus at the usual places of Ward Meetings on FRIDAY EVENING next, at 7½ o'clock for the purpose of electing four delegates from each Ward to the Republican State Convention to be held at Lewiston on the 13th inst. for the purpose of nominating a candidate for Governor and two candidates of Electors of President and Vice President

Per order of the Republican City Committee
A. L. SIMPSON Chairman

June 1 1872

THE SUMNER UNFURLED

We have time only for a brief allusion to the work of the great Convention which has so gloriously inaugurated the National Republican campaign for 1872. It is enough to say that the Convention just adjourned more thoroughly represented the intelligence, patriotism and sound business interests of the country than any former political assemblage; that its harmonious proceedings were marked by an electrifying enthusiasm that will stir the hearts of the People everywhere and that the magnificent indorsement of his sterling efficiency, economy and respect for the popular will, afforded in the casting by every State and Territory of the Union of their unanimous vote for ULYSSES S GRANT will evoke a response that will ... with the ... of victory in November

The choice for Vice President was ... decided at the outset ... selection lay between two equally honored statesmen and it was ... by a perfectly amicable canvass in ... all parties heartily concur ... personal preference and ... honors for distinguished services ... in the selection of HON HENRY WILSON for the second place on the Republican ticket we have not only secured a strong and popular combination ... have presented ... his name the standing rebuke of Massachusetts and the Nation to the unwarranted aspersions of his Senatorial colleague upon the honored standard bearer of the party

The platform speaks for itself and in clear and ringing tones Its declarations embody the living principles and stride forward on the progressive march of Republicanism. It will be hailed by the people as the noblest political expression of their will ever put forth by any party, and on that platform we may may proudly and confidently go forward to the triumph

GREELEY'S CAMPAIGN

Notwithstanding that the N Y Tribune (which is not an organ) devotes all its energies and supplementary sheets to the advocacy of its Presidential aspirant and is bidding high for Democratic votes by abusing and ridiculing everything and everybody connected with the Republican party the Greeley movement appears to be fizzing out and subsiding There was a little effervescence at first over the fusion of "Liberals and "Bourbons," but like a seidlitz draught the froth has speedily settled and both sides have concluded that the mixture is only physic after all The Cooper Institute affair was elaborated for weeks and was intended to be "stunning," but proved so, if at all, only by its noise Neither Schurz, nor Trumbull nor Brown could be prevailed on to appear though flourishingly announced, and nobody more important than John Cochrane, a political pension or of Greeley, could be found to preside How complete a failure the demonstration proved, may be inferred from the following extracts from the New York papers The Evening Post says —

The list of Vice Presidents and Secretaries printed for this meeting is as long as a Welsh pedigree and the names seem quite as strange Mr Benjamin Wood's we recognize, and Mr Waldo Hutchin's, Mr Robert Murray's and a score or two of equal eminence but the greater part are new to us and, we suspect, new to the kind of distinction that has been given them by the friendly zeal of the politicians As for the speaking it was scarcely equal to what we are used to hear on these occasions All the attractive speakers, Cassius M Clay G W Julian Wm Dorsheimer, &c &c stayed away and those that came were not as attractive as they might have been with a better subject Mr John Cochrane the President for instance was not half as earnest and fiery as he was on the steps at Richmond when he urged the Southern braves to draw their swords, and promised them reinforcements from the city of New York

The World gives the following account of the character of the assemblage and it is ... enough with New York Democracy to distinguish the proportion of that element

It is evident enough that if the Greeley ... meeting be rated by the weight of the speakers and the force of their arguments is not of the slightest consequence The only thing that can be said for ... that it was considerable in numbers

But of whom did these numbers consist? Had the meeting been composed wholly or mainly of anti-Grant Republicans it would have been significant. But there is no evidence that there were a thousand Republicans in the whole assemblage It the Democrats and Republicans who composed the meeting had been assigned separate parts of the hall the Republican attendance would have been found to be quite insignificant. The meeting consisted mainly of Greeley Democrats and the greater part of these were ... Democrats

* * * * * *

If the sheep were fairly separated from the goats, it would be found that Mr Greeley's supporters in this city consist entirely of that class of Democrats whom he has been accustomed to denounce in the Tribune as the dregs and offscouring of creation

So much from New York and now we have the following editorial correspondence from Boston to the Springfield Republican, the New England organ of the Greeley business, admitting that the "movement in the country has gone up and will soon go down" —

There is a growing feeling here that the Greeley movement in the country has "gone up," and will soon go down. The rumored defection of Senators Schurz and Trumbull and the persistent opposition of many Democrats to Mr Greeley is the occasion of this feeling, which is "in the air" more than the actual circumstances of the political situation Mr Sumner's speech is not viewed as giving Mr Greeley any aid or comfort, and the small number of Greeley Republicans in this part of the world has grown no larger within the past week. Men are talking more seriously about Greeley's voluntary withdrawal than about Grant's—both of them being in the highest degree improbable.

The Republicans who still receive the N Y Tribune must highly relish the relative treatment which that paper bestows upon Republican and Democratic assemblies. Its fulsome eulogy of the Democratic Convention at Rochester is only outdone by the contumely which it lavishes on the National Republican Convention at Philadelphia. The Tammany gatherings are dignified as "Reform Rallies," while it grudges their opponents the civility of their title and wipes out the Republican name with "Office-holders' meeting," "Renominationists" and similar contemptuous phrases. It even permits its editorial flunkies to sneer at the cordial hospitalities of Philadelphia, and at a time when the Republicans of the country, including the life-long friends of Sumner, are uttering an almost unanimous rebuke to his shameful tirade, it endorses his vituperation and affronts common sense by declaring that throughout the speech he gave no evidence of personal rancor We do not wonder that Republicans are cutting down its circulation by thousands, for it comes to them not only with treachery but with insult.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES The Republican caucuses for the nomination of four delegates from each ward to the State Convention (to be held in Lewiston on the 13th) will be held at the usual places of ward meetings at 7½ o clock this evening The Secretaries of the caucuses or some other gentleman in attendance will confer a favor by leaving the names of the delegates elected, at this office, after the adjournment

Now that there is some prospect of an alliance between Horace Greeley and Governor Hoffman to carry the State of New York for the Greeley and Brown ticket in November and continue Hoffman in the gubernatorial chair the New York Times returns once more to the Tammany records and adduces figures which, it asserts, show conclusively that he was virtually included in the indictment against the ring thieves, Hall, Tweed and Sweeney and that in doing his utmost to render their conviction slow and uncertain, he was simply acting in self defence The Times says of the accounts which it prints

The warrants are identical in character with those under which the members of the ring stand indicted for public plunder, The number actually signed by Hoffman is insignificant, compared with those which he made way for Connolly to sign The frequent calls upon the services of the president of the board of aldermen to act as Mayor during the latter half of 1868, were obviously intended to save Mayor Hoffman from direct complicity in these frauds In point of fact it has had an effect precisely the reverse of this For Hoffman's careful avoidance of the fraudulent warrants after June, 1868, and the fact that he is frequently found authorizing just claims on the same day that Connolly is called to put his signature to these unjust ones, shows beyond a doubt that Hoffman knew of the guilty business that was on hand, and did everything, short of direct participation, to facilitate it That he played a less guilty part than Tweed Connolly or Connolly can not be pretended That he played a meaner ... tolerably obvious

The Boston Advertiser testifies to the unanimous condemnation of Sumner as follows

There is but one response to Mr Sumner's speech among his constituents, and that is of unqualified condemnation The Senator will be astonished, if anything could now astonish him, at the unanimity of opinion on this subject He described a character which does not exist He has painted in intense colors the portrait of a lawless and incapable magistrate but nobody recognizes the likeness In situations of great difficulty, requiring rare judgment, knowledge of men, and capacity of a very high order the President has won claims to respect which are not for gotten by the country "The man who captured Vicksburg and planned the great movements by which the rebellion was suppressed, does not lack either ability or patriotism"—Mr Sumner has deceived himself, and where he leads Massachusetts will be the last State to follow

The N Y Evening Post is by no means inclined to friendliness for President Grant, but it cannot speak approvingly of what it calls "Mr Sumner's Tirade" It says —

A morning paper on Saturday pronounced the late speech of Senator Sumner his greatest effort, but in our opinion it is the weakest Any one who remembers his elaborate orations on the barbarism of slavery, on the nationality of freedom, and on other questions that involved broad and momentous issues of principle and policy, cannot but regard his assault upon President Grant as little more than a pedantic and unpassioned scold

A Democratic paper in New Hampshire is not satisfied with Mr Greeley's interpretation of the "local self government" plank in the Cincinnati platform. It infers from Greeley's qualification, 'subject to our solemn constitutional obligation to maintain the equal rights of all citizens," that he might find occasion, if elected, "to kick over the Cincinnati platform, and under his well known interpretation of our 'solemn constitutional obligation,' might play strange pranks upon local self government." The article ends with the query, "What does Mr Greeley mean?" Will the sage or some of his authorized expounders "rise to explain?"

The N. Y. World declares that. "To tolerate much longer the candidacy of Greeley is for the Democracy to commit suicide by poison To accept him as its candidate is to commit suicide by an explosive bullet lodged in its heart"

POLITICAL AND PERSONAL

In his address at Philadelphia, Mr McMichael said that the Cincinnati Convention was without a constituency, and the one which is to meet at Baltimore would be without any principles.

The Hon J. R Doolittle stated in his speech at Cooper Institute Monday night that he had positive assurance that Mr Greeley will run for President, whatever may be done or left undone at Baltimore

The Tribune triumphantly publishes a note from Gen'l Beauregard, declaring himself for Greeley The ex rebel's note shows that he is more jubilant than he has been at any time since he opened his guns on Sumter.

That was a pitiful trick of the Greeley managers to get out the Germans at the Greeley and Brown ratification meeting in New York Monday night. They announced on the posters printed in German the name of Carl Schurz as one of the speakers, although they well knew he would not be present The name was omitted on the English posters

The Cincinnati Gazettee propounds some hard conundrums "Where are the Republicans that talk of Greeley and Brown clubs?" it asks "Where are there any Republicans that will vote for Greeley as the Democratic candidate? We should like to have some one name them or give any sort of evidence of their existence

The Erie (Pa) Observer says, in commenting on the political situation

We have taken some pains to ascertain Democratic sentiment in this State on the subject of the Cincinnati nominations, and find the party nearly of one accord in favor of a regular ticket

The San Francisco Abendpost disposes of the false rumors about the "Greeley enthusiasm" on the Pacific coast in the following manner

The New Yorker Journal is endeavoring, in company with the California Democrat, to prove that Greeley is very popular on the Pacific coast, and the candidate of the Germans here. We can assure the Journal that we do not know one single German here who is swerving to the side of Greeley

The Cincinnati Times and Chronicle says it is whispered that there are written documents now in that city over the signature of Senator Schurz, defining exactly his position on the Presidential question. It has not seen the documents, but concludes from the manner of others who have, that the Missouri Senator does not by any means say that he will support the bargain and sale combination made at the Cincinnati Convention

Says the St. Louis Republican, (passive Democrat) "That gallant confederate veteran, Gen. J. B. Hood, is as earnest as Beauregard in his support of Greeley." It would be interesting to know what assurances these "gallant confederates" have received in consideration of their support.

Dentistry!

I have purchased of JOHNSON BROTHERS, of New York, an entirely new apparatus for administering

NITROUS OXIDE (OR LAUGHING) GAS

and feel assured that I have obtained what the people have for a long time been wanting I obtain the Gas from the same firm, who manufacture it in the most approved manner and warrant its purity With this improved apparatus, I can administer gas at the patients' residences, as well as in the office, as it is in such compact form that it can be as easily transported as a common travelling bag Though recently introduced, the apparatus is meeting with much favor, and is already used by many eminent dentists in Boston, New York and other large cities Call and examine it, at the office of

Jacqueline Corset.

Dress Makers recommend it as being the Best Corset to Fit a Dress over, because it is cut in such a manner that the front and back seams fit like seams to a dress

It is superior to any other Corset now in use, because its peculiar style of cutting gives sufficient fullness at the bosom, without folding at the top, gradually and closely fitting to, and over the hips, is longer front and back than ordinary corsets, and in fact,

Is the Only CORSET Cut in This Form.

WEBSTER

Pure Warm Air

FURNACE.

This new Furnace, having been THOROUGHLY TESTED, for the last five years in New York, Massachusetts, Connecticut, New Hampshire and Vermont, and in this city the past winter, with the most flattering results, is now offered to the public of Bangor and vicinity with increased confidence in its merits

THE ADVANTAGES OF THIS FURNACE

consist in its great radiating surface, whereby a large quantity of air is heated to a moderate degree of temperature, and delivered into the ... with its vitality unimpaired

Its Quickness of Operation

A current of warm air issues almost immediately on starting or replenishing the fire while in most other furnaces no warm air is obtained from them until the thick iron plates or brick walls enclosing them are themselves well heated To heat a house of eight or ten rooms most furnaces consume from nine to twelve tons of coal, while the Webster Furnace to do the same work, needs only from four and a half to six and a half tons is such that the air is kept pure and not burned, and by means of a new patent double case, all the heated air is saved to warm the house above not a particle of it is wasted in the cellar or allowed to pass off in the smoke pipe.

Those in want of a first class furnace are respectfully invited to call and examine the WEBSTER, and hear what reliable men of this city say who have used them

GRANT & WILSON!

AN ENTHUSIASTIC CONVENTION!

Unanimous Vote for Grant!

SUMNER'S COLLEAGUE FOR VICE PRESIDENT!

Colfax Endorses the Ticket!

ENTIRE HARMONY THROUGHOUT!

The Republican Platform!

RE-ASSEMBLING—A GREAT AUDIENCE—THE ENTHUSIASM IMMENSE.

PHILADELPHIA, June 6. The Academy of Music was densely packed at 10 o'clock when the Convention re-assembled. Many ladies were present and the enthusiasm was immense, every popular air played by the band eliciting hearty rounds of cheers. The Committee on Platform not having come in there was some delay in opening the session. It was reported that there had been somewhat serious differences of opinion in the committee.

OPENING PRAYER.

At 10.30 chairman Settle called the Convention to order and introduced Rev. Dr. Harper of North Broad street church, Philadelphia, who made the opening prayer. He spoke of the day as one which would be memorable in the future; a day which was to record another page in our national history; a day in which centred and around which clustered not merely the welfare, but possibly the destiny of the nation. He prayed that the platform to be established should be the embodiment of wise, just and humane principles, and that the man to be selected to bear the banner of the Replican party and to fill the highest place of honor and trust in this land should be especially blessed, and that the efforts of this Convention should be crowned with glorious success.

THE ROLL OF STATES.

After music by the band the roll of States was called, when the presence of each was announced by the chairman of the respective delegations. Here it was discovered that about one hundred persons had obtained an entrance surreptitiously to the Hall, all of whom were expelled by the Sergeant-at-arms.

CHEERS FOR OREGON.

Mr. Devoe of Oregon rose and said: "Oregon is redeemed. She has gone Republican. Last Monday an election was held. For four years she has been under Democratic rule; now we are Republican in Representatives and Legislature." (Three cheers for Oregon.)

ORDER OF BUSINESS.

Mr. Oliver Ames of Mass., from the Committee on Rules and Order of business, reported as follows:—

The States to be called in alphabetical order.

Each State shall be entitled to double its Senatorial and Congressional votes, according to the recent apportionment.

The report of the Committee on Credentials and the platform are first to be disposed of before the nominations.

The roll call shall not be dispensed with in the nominations, and when a majority shall be given for any candidate and it shall appear clear, the Chairman shall put the question to the Convention: "Shall the nomination be made unanimous?"

In case of a divided delegation the Chairman shall state the vote in detail for each candidate or proposition.

The rules of the House of Representatives are generally adopted; but only five minutes' speeches, except by the consent of the Convention and except that in nominating a candidate ten minutes' speech, will be allowed.

A National Committee is to be named by the respective States.

The report was unanimously adopted.

REPORT ON CREDENTIALS.

Mr. Pendleton of Iowa, from the Committee on Credentials, reported that all the States and Territories are represented in full and that there are no contests except in the Dakota and Utah delegations. In the case of Dakota they admit all four delegates with only two votes between them. In the case of Utah they admit the Hollister-Gould delegates.

The Gentile delegation from Utah, whose claims to seats were admitted, sustained their application in a strong paper presented to the Convention. It claimed that one of their contestants, Smith, was the alternate of Tom Fitch who was absent because he supported Greeley; that Smith is first Vice-President of the Mormon church, endowed with many wives so-called; that polygamy is utterly repugnant to the principles of the Republican party, and that their opponents were not regularly and properly elected as delegates and represented no Republican constituency.

Mr. Southard moved to amend the report so as to admit the Utah delegates. He understood that one set was excluded because they were Mormons. Mr. Stoddard of Mass., said they were excluded because they were not regularly chosen. Mr. Spencer said the man had come a great way, and proposed to admit and marry all. Mr. Wurtz of N. Y., said that proposition had been made in the Committee and that the compromise had been refused by the Mormon delegates.

The amendment was rejected and the report was then adopted.

The Chairman ordered the roll called, and in response the delegations named the following as the NATIONAL UNION REPUBLICAN COMMITTEE.

Alabama, G. D. Spencer; Arkansas, Powell Clayton; California, G. C. Gorham; Connecticut, Marshall Jewell, Florida, Wm. H Gleason; Georgia, J. S. Fanning, Illinois, J. G. Scammel; Indiana, O. P. Morton; Iowa, G. W. Bodge; Kansas, J. A. Martin; Kentucky, Wm. C. Goodhue; Louisiana, G. Cassannal; Maine, Wm. B. Frye; Maryland, C. E. Fulton; Massachusetts, William Claflin; Michigan, A. Howard; Minnesota, J. T. Averill; Mississippi, O. C. French; Missouri, R. T. Van Horn; Nebraska, E. T. Cunningham, Nevada, J. W. Nye, New Hampshire, W. E. Chandler; New Jersey, A. G. Cattell; New York, E. D. Morgan, North Carolina, J. D. Cabbott; Ohio, R. B. Cowan; Oregon, J. G. Wilson, Pennsylvania, W. H. Kemble; Rhode Island, Wm. O. Brayton, South Carolina, F. J. Moses; Tennessee, Horace Maynard; Vermont, George Nichols, Virginia, H. H. Wells; West Virginia, Anson Creswell, Wisconsin, D. Atwood, Arizona, J. Titus, Colorado, Edw. M. McCook, Dakota, Wm. H. H. Beadle; Montana, L. B. Church; New Mexico, J. G. Paler; Utah, A. S. Gould, Washington Territory, L. D. Andrew, Wyoming, Wm. T. Jones.

RESOLUTIONS REFERRED.

Mr. Parsons of Ala., offered a resolution extolling peace, but warning England that we will uphold the Government firmly in maintaining our rights.

Mr. Parker of N. J., moved that all resolutions offered be referred without debate to the Committee on Resolutions.

Mr. Robinson of La., moved to refer without reading.

Mr. Parker accepted the amendment and the resolution was adopted.

NATIONAL UNION LEAGUE.

Mr. McMichael presented to the Convention the resolutions from the Union League of America. The Coonvention by a vote ordered them read. They set forth the principles of the Republican party and urge the importance of faithfully standing by and upholding them against all foes, opposition or treachery. An expression sustaining universal civil rights and anti-Ku-Klux legislation called forth applause.

Mr. Loring of Massachusetts followed the reading of the League resolutions with a brief approval and moved that the resolutions be entered on the minutes and printed.—Adopted.

AN EX-REBEL'S VIEWS.

Mr. Flannagan of Texas called out George W. Carter of Texas, who led a rebel brigade He wanted to hear from the ex secession side of the house. (cries of "Carter," "Carter.") Mr. Carter came to the platform and spoke so inaudibly that it was difficult to hear at first. He said he had been a rebel but was reconstructed, and came out of the war with two planks in his platform: First, if you could not get what you wanted take what you could get; second, that whipped men had no right to dictate what they would have. He had learned that the will of the people must be respected. Referring to Greeley he said the people of the South respected more a man who was firm and would make them behave themselves. If the Democrats nominate Greeley at Baltimore he believed that Grant would get more Democratic votes in Louisiana than Greeley. (Great cheering.)

THE GERMAN VOTE.

Mr Strobach of Alabama, being called out addressed the Convention in a strong German accent and recited some of the cruelties of the Ku Klux. He illustrated the importance of decided legislation and the strong arm of Grant to execute it, to guarantee protection to all citizens in the enjoyment of all their political and civil rights. In conclusion he predicted that Schurz could not muster a corporal's guard of Germans to attend his own political funeral.

OTHER SPEECHES.

were made in response to calls, by Messrs. Storrs of Illinois, John B. Hudson of Missouri, Jas. R. Lynch, (colored) Secretary of State of Mississippi, and the crippled soldier, Governor Noyes, of Ohio, all of them enthusiastic and loudly applauded, although the Convention manifested impatience to proceed with the nominations.

Mr. Henderson said the republican party of Missouri is now united and there will come up from the hills and valleys of that State one universal shout for the nominees of this Convention. (applause.)

Mr. Lynch said the colored men were politically born of the Republican party and by it they will stand. Because Greeley was once identified with the cause of liberty, the colored people find no magic in his name—they know the name of Grant still better as the man who carved out their path to freedom with the sword. (cheers.)

Gen. Noyes promised for the nominees of this Convention a larger majority than Ohio gave Grant four years ago. (cheers.) There was absolutely no dissatisfaction in Ohio. (cheers.) The few liberal Republicans are now ashamed of themselves and stronger friends of Grant than before. In conclusion he moved not to wait for the platform report, but to suspend the rules and proceed to nominate a candidate for President. Carried amid great cheering.

RECEPTION OF GRANT'S NAME—A SCENE OF UNCONTROLLABLE ENTHUSIASM—A SPONTANEOUS OVATION.

Mr. Shelby L. Cullom, chairman of the Illinois delegation, having advanced to the platform, read:—

"On behalf of the great Republican party of Illinois and of the Union, in the name of liberty, of loyalty, of justice, of law; in the interest of economy, of good government, of peace and of the equal rights of all; remembering with profound gratitude his glorious achievements on the field and his noble statesmanship as Chief Magistrate of this great nation, I nominate for a second term

ULYSSES S. GRANT.

The nomination was hailed with most enthusiastic demonstrations. The delegates rose to their feet in a mass and cheered vociferously, waving their hats and handkerchiefs. In the height of the enthusiasm a drop-scene was lowered at the back of the stage with a picture of General Grant on horseback, and the band struck up "Hail to the Chief." The scene was wonderfully exhilarating.

THE NOMINATION—A REBUKE TO SUMNER'S ASPERSIONS.

Gen. Stewart L. Woodford of New York, advanced to the platform to second the nomination. He spoke of Senator Sumner's aspersions on Gen. Grant, referring particularly to Sumner's quotation of Secretary Stanton's words: "I know Gen. Grant better than any other person in the country can know him.—It was my duty to study him and I did so night and day, when I saw him and when I did not see him, and need I tell you now what I know? He cannot govern this country."

"Let the history," said Gen. Woodford, "of those perilous days reply that the great War Secretary indeed knew Grant through and through. That until the hour when Grant assumed personal command in Virginia, Stanton had been compelled to discharge not only his ministerial duties as Secretary, but to watch and to guide the action of commanders in the field, and from that hour he and Lincoln alike trusted, leaned upon, counselled with and confided in Grant and left him free according to his own judgment to fight the rebellion in his own resolute and sure way.—Let history record that when our gallant Sherman seemed in the judgment of the War Secretary to have erred in the terms proposed for Johnston's surrender, Stanton knew Grant so well that he sent him, all untried in diplomacy and statesmanship, to arrange the surrender and prevent possible legal complications and political misunderstandings. Let history also record that this plain soldier, of whose autocratic, egotistic and imperial will, the same Senator made such frequent mention, was so little disposed to assert himself, was so generous to the feelings of his great Lieutenant, that having conferred with Sherman and indicated the purpose of the Government and so prevented further possible mistake, he left Sherman to complete the negotiation in his own name and by his own means. I challenge the records of the war and the memories of his old soldiers to find one single instance where Grant ever sought to appropriate one single laurel that his comrade had gained, or failed to recognize and reward a comrade's merit and worth.

"But to return—Stanton indeed knew Grant through and through. He knew that when for an hour Andrew Johnson may have meditated the use of force against the will of the people in Congress assembled, he did not dare to whisper his dream to the General, but sought by the creation of merit ranks to find others who might do his bidding. To the honor of the man and true men who stood that day in the highest rank, Johnson offered commissions in vain. Aye, Stanton knew Grant well. He knew when by assignment to the War Department ad interim, Grant filled for the time that high civic trust, that the only barrrier between the passion of the President and the imminent renewal of civil strife, was this patient, silent, loyal man, whose voice in peace as in war was forever on the side of constitutional law, unity and peace.

"Aye, he knew him well. So well, that during that long struggle when Stanton stood and fought out the bitter fight between Presidential usurpation and Congressional authority, he leaned on Grant constantly and completely, and this Cæsar, whose red hand is to stop our liberty, was true at every turn and in every place. As true to the people and to law as is the needle to the pole. Aye, Stanton knew him well. So well that when he had been placed in nomination for the Presidency, Stanton plead for his election, endorsed his fitness, and labored for his success. These very walls still ring with the echo of that great speech, one of the last utterances of the great statesmen in his own Pennsylvania.—From the grave where he lies, killed from over-work in the Cabinet, as much a martyr of the war as though he had wasted in the hospital or died upon the field, his cold lips speak this day as in life they spoke from this very platform. From the grave the dead Stanton rebukes the living Senator, and I hear his earnest and solemn approval of ULYSSES S. GRANT, as a soldier, man and patriot. (Cheers.) New York endorses Grant's nomination and asks God's blessing on the cause."

THE BALLOT BY STATES—THE DELEGATIONS UNANIMOUS FOR GRANT.

Mr. Bourck, of California said a few words and called for the first ballot which resulted as follows: As each State was called the chairman of its delegation in a few terse sentences announced its unanimous vote for General Grant, each announcement being a signal for applause.

Nebraska in announcing its vote said Nebraska gave six for the man who can tan the hide of a horse and the vote of Democratic corruption and damnation.

Mr. Townsend casting the vote of New York, gave it for Grant, the man of whom Greeley said had never been beaten. (loud and uproarous applause.)

North Carolina said that being the tan, stated it intended to stick to Grant.

On the call of Pennsylvania her chairman was greeted with great applause, and cheers and cries of "platform," "platform." Mr. McMichael declined to come forward but said, Pennsylvania, without any words but her heart full, cast 57 for Grant.

When Gen. Burnside rose to vote he was greeted with great cheers continuing until he took the platform where he cast 3 votes for his old comrade in arms.

Mr. Mackey of South Carolina said that the delegation of that regenerated State, whose first gun at Sumpter made Grant a possibility, instructed him to cast her vote for that great soldier.

Mr. Perham of Virginia said that her Republican people were marching forward under her banner, Sic Semper Tyrannis, and she intends next autumn to put her armed heel upon the head of the Democratic party. The Gods are just and Virginia must and will be redeemed. (cheers.)

UNANIMOUS VOTE ANNOUNCED—A STORM OF ENTHUSIASM.

All the States and Territories having been called the chairman announced that the entire vote 752 in all having been cast for U. S. Grant the latter was the nominee of this Convention as its candidate for the Presidency. The Convention and galleries were cheering, waving hats and handkerchiefs while the band played an original campaign song "Rally around our leader, men" composed by Wm. L. Irwin and sung by a baritone from the gallery which was received with great applause. At the conclusion and after the cheering had subsided there were loud cries for the music of "John Brown" until the band begun to play it the whole Convention rising and singing it with great enthusiasm. At this time the excitement was intense which culminated when the band followed with the stirring strains of Yankee Doodle and next the call for the Battle cry of Freedom which was responded to by the band, the audience again joining in the chorus with a will. Mr. Chase of Indiana was called to the platform and sung the Red White and Blue the band and audience joining in the chorus. The enthusiasm would not be silenced until Mr. Church followed with Marching through Georgia. At the conclusion he called for three cheers for the loyal black men who stood by our boys as they were marching to the sea, which were given with a will.

THE VICE-PRESIDENCY.

Mr. Craighead of Ohio moved to suspend the rules and proceed with the nomination of Vice-President of the United States. Adopted. The chairman announced the nominations in order. Mr. Morton McMichael of Pennsylvania took the platform, and after referring to the faithfulness of Pennsylvania when her candidate four years ago was not given the Vice-Presidency, proceeded to nominate Hon. Henry Wilson of Massachusetts, an honest statesman who always labors for the working men.

Mr. Loring of Massachusetts seconded the nomination in a few well chosen words reciting Mr. Wilson's services and eulogizing his public and private character. Mr. Ray of N. H., also seconded the nomination because Mr. Wilson was true to the people in every emergency. (Cheers.)

R. W. Thompson of Indiana was next received with great cheering. In behalf of the entire Republican party of Indiana, and by the unanimous instruction of her delegates, he nominated Schuyler Colfax. (Great cheering.) He urged the nomination as a just reward for devoted public services and that the names which were the battle cry four years ago might again lead on to victory. He paid a high compliment to Mr. Wilson, but urged Grant and Colfax as the signal for triumph.

Hon. A. W. Howard of Michigan, seconded the nomination, eulogizing Mr. Colfax and presenting the reasons for his choice, amid frequent applause.

Mr. Lynch (colored) followed in support of Mr. Colfax.

Gerritt Smith rising, was greeted with great applause. He complimented highly Gen. Hawley and Mr. Colfax, but expressed his preference on this occasion for Mr. Wilson as especially the favorite of the working men and of the colored voters of the South. (Applause and cries of "vote, vote, call the roll," were renewed.)

Mr. Parker of New Jersey eulogized both Colfax and Wilson. If the Republican party has occasion to regret the possession of two such men it is because they had to choose between them. But when we say to General Grant, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," why should we not say the same to Schuyler Colfax?

Virginia nominated John T. Lewis; Texas, Gov. E. J. Davis, and Tennessee Hon. Horace Maynard.

The Chair announced that the Committee on Resolutions were present. He put the question whether the Convention would now hear their report, and declared it carried.

Mr Scofield of Pennsylvania, Chairman of the Committee on Resolutions, announced that Gen. Hawley, Secretary of Committee, would read the resolutions. He said that the Committee had but a short time to consider a large number of questions, so if gentlemen did not find in the platform everything that they desired, he hoped that they would rest assured that it was not excluded from any indisposition to take up and act upon them all. Gen. Hawley read the following

NATIONAL REPUBLICAN PLATFORM.

The Republican party of the United States assembled in National Convention in the city of Philadelphia the 5th and 6th days of June, 1872, again declares its history and announces its position on the questions before the country.

1st. During eleven years of supremacy it has accepted with grand courage the solemn duties of the time; it suppressed a gigantic rebellion, emancipated four million of slaves, decreed the equal citizenship of all and established universal suffrage. Exhibiting unparalleled magnanimity, it criminally punished no man for political offences and warmly welcomed all who proved their loyalty by obeying the laws and dealing justly with their neighbors. It has steadily decreased with a firm hand the resultant disorders of a great war and initiated a wise and humane policy towards the Indians. The Pacific railroad and similar vast enterprises have been generally aided and successfully conducted; the public lands freely given to actual settlers; immigration protected and encouraged and the acknowledgement of the rights of naturalized citizens secured from European powers. A uniform national currency has been provided; repudiation frowned down; the national credit sustained under the most extraordinary burdens and new bonds negotiated at a lower rate. The revenues have been carefully collected and honestly applied, despite the annual large reductions of the rates of taxation; the public debt has been reduced during Gen. Grant's Presidency at the rate of a hundred million a year; great financial crises have been avoided and peace and plenty prevail throughout the land. Menacing foreign difficulties have been peacefully and honorably composed and the honor and power of the nation kept in high respect throughout the world. The glorious record of the past is the party's best pledge for the future. We believe the People will not entrust the government to any party or combination of men composed chiefly of those who have resisted every step of this beneficial progress.

2. Complete liberty and exact equality in the enjoyment of all civil, political and public rights should be established and effectually maintained throughout the Union by efficient and appropriate State and Federal legislation. Neither the law nor its administration should admit of any discrimination in respect of citizens, by reason of race, creed or color, or previous condition of servitude.

3d. The recent amendments to the National Constitution should be cordially sustained because they are right—not merely tolerated because they are law—and should be carried out according to their spirit by appropriate legislation, the enforcement of which can safely be entrusted to the party that secured those amendments.

4. The National Government should seek to maintain honorable peace with all nations, protecting its citizens everywhere and sympathizing with all people who strive for greater liberty.

5. Any system of the civil service under which the subordinate positions of the government are considered rewards for mere party zeal, is fatally deteriorating, and we therefore favor a reform of the system, by laws which shall abolish the evils of patronage and make honesty, efficiency and fidelity the essential qualifications for public positions without practically creating a life tenure of office.

6. We are opposed to further grants of the public lands to corporations and monopolies, and demand that the national domain be set apart for the people.

7. The annual revenue after paying the current debts should furnish a moderate balance for the reduction of the principal of the public debt, and the revenue, except so much as may be derived from a tax upon tobacco and liquor, be raised by duties upon importations, the duties of which should be so adjusted as to aid in securing remunerative wages to labor and promote the industry, prosperity and growth of the whole country.

8. We hold in undying honor the soldiers and sailors whose valor saved the Union; their pensions are a sacred debt of the nation and the widows and orphans of those who died for their country, are entitled to the care of a generous and grateful people. We favor such additional legislation as will extend the bounty of the Government to all our soldiers and sailors who were honorably discharged and who in the line of duty became disabled, without regard to length of service or the cause of such discharge.

9. The doctrine of Great Britain and other European powers concerning allegiance: "Once a subject, always a subject," having at last through the efforts of the Republican party, been abandoned, and the American idea of the individual's right to transfer his allegiance having been accepted by European nations, it is the duty of our Government to guard with jealous care the right of our adopted citizens against the assumption of unauthorized claims by their former governments, and we urge the continued careful encouragement and protection of voluntary immigration.

10. The franking privilege ought to be abolished and the way prepared for a speedy reduction in the rate of postage.

11. Among the questions which press for attention is that which concerns the relations of capital and labor, and the Republican party recognize the duty of so shaping legislation as to secure full protection and the amplest field for capital and for labor, the creator of capital, the largest opportunities and a just share of mutual profit for these two great servants of civilization.

12. We hold that Congress and the President have only fulfilled an imperative duty in their measures for the suppression of violent and treasonable organizations in certain lately rebellious regions and for the protection of the ballot box, and therefore they are entitled to the thanks of the nation.

13. We denounce the repudiation of the public debt in any form or disguise, as a national crime. We witness with pride the reduction of the principal of the debt and of the rates of interest upon the balance, and confidently expect that our excellent national currency will be perfected by a speedy resumption of specie payments.

14. The Republican party is mindful of its obligations to the loyal women of America for their noble devotion to the cause of freedom; their admission to wider fields of usefulness is viewed with satisfaction and the honest demands of any class of citizens for additional rights should be treated with respectful consideration.

15. We heartily approve the action of Congress in extending amnesty to those lately in rebellion and rejoice in the growth of peace and fraternal feeling throughout the land.

16. The Republican party propose to respect the rights reserved by the people to themselves as carefully as the powers delegated by them to the States and to the Federal government. It disapproves of the resort to unconstitutional laws for the purpose of removing evils by interference with rights not surrendered by the people to either the State or National government.

—The Bangor Cadets have adopted a very neat uniform cap of the McClellan pattern, of "cadet gray" cloth, trimmed with red cord, and Adams Bros. have taken the contract for their manufacture.

—We learn that Mr. Israel Ham, well-known for a long time as toll collector for the Mount Washington Summit Road Co., died at the Glen House on Wednesday last, of heart disease.

—About a fortnight since a gentleman of this city wrote and dispatched in one mail a letter to Iowa City, Iowa, a second to Little Rock, Ark., and another to Montgomery, Ala. Yesterday morning the replies to all three letters reached this city together—a curious coincidence, truly.

—Two young men from a neighboring town imbibed so much of the ardent that they imagined themselves swine and crawled into a cattle car at the Maine Central depot. They were ejected by the railroad officials and stowed away in a baggage car on the afternoon train, to be hauled out of town.

—Daniel Hinds, the young man who was so terribly mutilated by a circular saw in Morse's mills on Wednesday, was still alive at midnight, last night, and had slept considerably between 6 and 11 o'clock, so his watchers informed one of our reporters, who visited the house at that time. It seems wonderful that a man can live so long after the loss of so much blood and being so mangled as young Hinds was.

MARITANA.

FIRST PERFORMANCE IN THIS CITY OF WALLACE'S GRAND OPERA "MARITANA."

Notwithstanding the unpleasant and showery weather yesterday, one of the finest audiences ever assembled in this city gathered in Norombega Hall last evening to witness the production (for the first time here) of the English opera "Maritana," Wallace's masterpiece. As we have previously stated, no time or expense was spared in the prepartion.—The soloists have had their parts in rehearsal for nearly six months, the chorus and orchestra have been drilled for a period almost as long, the best and most elegant costumes procurable were obtained, the stage enlarged and fitted with scenery that has never been excelled in the State, the aisles of the hall carpeted, and in short every detail looked after with a view of making it as perfect as possible—the managers determining to present the opera to our citizens in a style befitting its excellence, without regard to cost.

The result last evening proved that they have not labored in vain, as every one of the large audience in attendance can testify.

The following was the announcement:

WALLACE'S GRAND OPERA MARITANA,

Under the direction of Miss HOWARD, Miss ROSS and Mr. HODSDON.

Dramatis Personæ:

Charles II, King of Spain,	Mr. LAUGHTON
Don Jose de Santarem,	Mr. HODSDON
Don Cæsar de Bazan,	Mr. SMALL
Marquis de Montefiori,	Mr. HAYNES
Lazarillo,	Miss EGERY
Alcade,	Mr. BROWN
Captain of Guards,	Mr. ANGUERA
Maritana, a Gitana,	Miss ROSS
Marchioness de Montefiori,	Miss WINGATE
Nobles, Alguazils, Soldiers, Populace, Gipsies, etc.
Director of Orchestra,	Miss HOWARD
Leader of Chorus,	Miss ADAMS

Scenery and Properties by Messrs. Weld & Boyson, Boston; costumes from Mrs. W. H. Curtis, 362 Washington Street, under Globe Theatre, Boston.

The cast was admirably efficient, and the performance in every part enjoyable, as the frequent and hearty applause demonstrated.

Miss Ross' acting as Maritana was well nigh perfect. Easy and graceful in every motion, she completely identified herself with the part and it was impossible to decide whether as Gipsey songstress, veiled bride or captive, her personation was best, so clearly had she studied the character. Her pure and flexible soprano voice, thoroughly cultivated, never out of control, and reaching and dwelling on "high C" with as much ease as any tone in the middle register, won her new triumphs. In the romanza "The Harp in the Air," it was heard to great advantage, as well as in "Scenes that are brightest" and in the prayer (duet with Lazarillo) in the last act, where it aroused the audience to enthusiastic applause. The encores so loudly demanded were accorded, and the fair vocalist was rewarded with an abundance of floral offerings, one of which was a magnificent basket of hot-house flowers, presented at the close of the opening aria in act 3.

Miss Egery (Lazarillo) made the most charming little page imaginable, and by her natural, unaffected acting delighted the audience. Her clear, sweet, sympathetic voice displayed its best qualities in the aria, "Alas! those chimes," in the prison scene, and gained her an encore and a shower of bouquets. She also deservedly shared the applause in the "Prayer to the Madonna" duet with Miss Ross.

Miss Wingate furnished a capital study of the ancient and affected Marchioness and made effective the brief vocal part assigned her in the trio with Don Jose and the Marquis.

King Charles was well personated by Mr. Laughton, who has a fine stage presence and a voice that is destined to give him rank among the best tenors. His rendering of the recitative and aria in the second scene of act 2, was particularly effective, and was loudly applauded. His duet with Don Cæsar was also admirable.

Mr. Hodsdon in the character of Don Jose, the wily Prime Minister, gained unbounded applause by his singing and acting. Thoroughly conversant with all branches of the musical art, (which he has chosen for his life study,) Mr. Hodsdon has a fine baritone voice, cultivated under the best masters, and the part was admirably calculated to display his varied attainments. In the ballad "In happy moments," and the aria "In deep despair" he was heartily applauded, (receiving an encore at the close of the first-named piece,) and his part in the duets with Miss Ross, and the trio in the second act with Miss Egery and Mr. Small, was rendered in the most finished style.

No one present last evening will dispute the assertion that Mr. Small is a "born actor," his personation of the "witty, brawling, mad-brain'd," yet gallant, generous and tender-hearted Don Cæsar de Bazan exhibiting histrionic and musical talent of a high order, which the audience were delighted to recognize. In the wedding scene, the duet with the King, and the scene where Don Cæsar discovers his wife, Mr. Small is rarely excellent, and his rendition of the cavatini "Let me like a soldier fall" and "The memory of the past" was applauded to the echo.

Mr. Haynes presented the pompous old Marquis de Montefiori to the life, and Mr. Brown as the Alcade and Mr. Anguera as Captain of the Guard made the most of the brief parts assigned them. The chorus was large and drilled to high degree of excellence, its rendering of the "Angelus" and the finale especially showing how thorough has been the training—a fact which the audience was not slow to appreciate, as shown by the instant applause which followed each. The whole company was called before the curtain at the close.

The orchestra, under the direction of Miss Howard, (who presided at the piano) was perfectly au fait in the difficult music of the opera, and the vocalists were all supported by the best of accompaniments, suited to their different methods with an exactness only acquired by long practice. That Miss Howard's services were appreciated was shown by the large number of bouquets and the beautiful basket of flowers sent up to the piano during the evening.

There were no "hitches," as might have been expected in an opening performance.—The scenery was well managed by Mr. Weld, assisted by Mr. Tyler, and in fact no [illegible] ment but was perfect. [illegible] credit [illegible] also due Mr. Geo. Fred Howa[illegible] who [illegible] in a thousand ways rendered in[illegible] the preparations, on the [illegible] "behind the scenes," where he [illegible] as prompter last evening.

[illegible], Miss Howard, Miss Ross and Mr. Hodsdon, have reason to be proud of their success. They only can know how many and how great were the difficulties they had to contend with in the preparation and performance of "Maritana." They were advised at the outset that they could never succeed, but as we have seen, their triumph has been complete.

The second performance of "Maritana" will take place in Norombega Hall this evening, and a matinee performance will be given on Saturday afternoon.

*Excused from Speaking.

The pieces given by the class were as a whole well conceived, and exhibited the thorough and systematic training to which the members have been subjected.

The closing address to the class was given by Prof. Paine, who spoke on the object of theological training, and closed with suggestions to the young men of the class on preaching efficiently, showing that their life must be one of constant study, and that increase of powers comes with this. That their efforts should be natural and not a servile copy of others. That more good is accomplished and greater interest kept up by preaching the truth according to their own convictions, and according to their own measure of faith, than by other methods.—The address, though brief, was full of sound, practical advice, and was listened to with the deepest attention by the class as well as by the audience present.

The music was furnished by a choir, consisting of Miss Nellie Chapman, soprano; Mrs. Gardiner, alto; Mr. Wm. Patten, tenor; Mr. J. A. Crowell, bass, and Mr. J. H. Shannon, organist. The first piece after the voluntary was sung by the choir, the second was a solo by Mrs. Gardiner, and the last a solo by Miss Chapman. The diplomas were presented to the members of the class with very appropriate remarks by Dr. Pond. The closing prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Park of Gardiner, who dismissed the audience with a benediction.

BUSINESS ITEMS.

LANDS IN THE WEST.—The Northern Pacific Railroad Company has now completed sufficient track to entitle it to nearly five million acres of the lands granted it by Congress. Some three million acres of these lands in the thriving State of Minnesota, the company now places on the market. They are to be sold for settlement and cultivation, and we understand that applications are already filed by actual settlers for nearly two hundred thousand acres, at prices which, while liberal to the purchaser, prove the company's land subsidy to be quite as valuable as has been claimed for it.

As the fertile acres which shrewd farmers and experienced frontiersmen promptly buy, at fair prices, are pledged for the redemption of the first mortgage bonds of the company, in addition to the road and its traffic, the solid character of these securities could hardly have a better illustration.

PEACE JUBILEE. CHOICE SEATS.—An idea to be heartily commended, for its convenience, is that of Messrs. Kendrick & Elwell, No. 31 State street, Boston, in regard to the World's Peace Jubilee. These gentlemen have purchased a large number of choice seats for the whole Jubilee, for which they are now ready to receive orders from all parts of the country. By this means parties at a distance from Boston can secure, good seats for a portion of the time during the Jubilee, at $5.50 for each performance.

THE MICROSCOPE. One of the most interesting experiments, and one which is easily performed, is to watch the change in the blood of a delicate or very pale person while using Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites. The colorless or dead corpuscles are steadily removed from the system, and are replaced by the red or vitalized particles so necessary to vigorous existence.

FOUNDED ON A ROCK. The disappointed adventurers who have from time to time attempted to run their worthless potions against DRAKE'S PLATATION BITTERS, now that they cannot understand what foundation there is for its amazing popularity. The explanation is simple enough. The reputation of the world-renowned tonic is founded upon a rock, the Rock of Experience. All its ingredients are pure and wholesome. How, then, could tricksters and cheats expect to rival it with compounds of cheap drugs and refuse liquor, or with liquorice trash in a state of acetous fermentation? Of course the charlatans have come to grief. Their little game has failed. Their contempt for the sagacity of the community has been fitly punished. Meanwhile PLANTATION BITTERS seems to be in a fair way of eventually superseding every other medicinal preparation included in the class to which it belongs. In every State and Territory of the Union it is, to-day, the accepted specific for nervous debility, dyspepsia, fever and ague, rheumatism, and all ailments involving a deficiency of vital power.

IT is an accomplished fact, that by toning and stimulating the nerve structure with an occasional dose of SMOLANDER'S BUCHU, you invigorate the entire nervous system, and prevent, remove or counteract kidney, bladder and glandular diseases, mental and physical debility, diabetes, gravel, female weakness and uterine complaints. It is without doubt the best, safest and surest diuretic alterative and solvent yet discovered.

DRAXY'S HYMN

SAXE HOLM

I cannot think but God must know
About the thing I long for so,
I know He is so good so kind
I cannot think but He will find
Some way to help some way to show
Me to the thing I long for so

I stretch my hand—it lies so near
It looks so sweet, it looks so dear
"Dear Lord" I pray "Oh let me know
If it is wrong to want it so!"
He only smiles—He does not speak
My heart grows weaker and more weak
With looking at the thing so dear
Which lies so far and yet so near

Now, Lord, I leave at thy loved feet
This thing which looks so near so sweet
I will not seek I will not long—
I almost fear I have been wrong
I'll go, and work the harder, Lord
And wait till by some loud, clear word
Thou callest me to thy loved feet,
To take this thing so dear, so sweet

STANDARD

SECURITY

We are selling at par and accrued interest, and strongly recommend as a safe and profitable investment the First Mortgage 7 30 Gold Bonds of the Northern Pacific Railroad At the present gold premium they yield 8½ per cent. interest—over one-third more than United States 5 20's Their elements of strength and safety are the following

I They are the standard obligation of a strong corporation which represents in its Shareholders and Managers large capital and railroad experience and is engaged in prosecuting a business enterprise whose great usefulness and solid success are not matters of doubt

II They are a first mortgage on the Road, its Right of Way Rolling Stock Telegraph Line, Equipments and Franchises

III They are a first lien upon the Traffic or net Earnings of the Road The net receipts of the first Trans-continental railroad, in the second year after completion and mainly from Local Business, were equal to nine per cent on the total estimated cost of the Northern Pacific Road

IV They are a First and Only Mortgage on a Government Grant of Land which consists of 12-800 acres for each mile of Road through the States of Wisconsin and Minnesota and 25,600 acres per mile through the Territories of Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington. In average fertility of soil, healthfulness and mildness of climate, diversity and extent of resources, the belt of country comprising this grant is such as to render the lands very valuable, and insure their speedy sale and cultivation—Sold at the average price realized by other land grant roads, the real estate endowment of the Northern Pacific Company will produce more than three times the issue of bonds per mile

The Company is now offering for sale to settlers and Colonies, a portion of its valuable land Grant in Minnesota, and a large area on the Pacific coast will soon be placed on the market. The offered Lands are selling readily, and henceforward the Company will realize a large yearly income from this source The proceeds of land sales constitute a SINKING FUND for the retirement of the First Mortgage Bonds, and the Bonds are at all times convertible at 1 10 into the Company's lands at market prices.

All marketable stocks and bonds will be received (by express or otherwise) at current prices in exchange for Northern Pacific 7-30's, without expense to the investor. Pamphlets and full information will be furnished on application.

For further particulars concerning this bond, or purchase of the same, inquire of

MISS SAWYER'S SALVE.

HERE you have a salve combining soothing and healing properties with no dangerous ingredient A remedy at hand for the many pains and aches, wounds and bruises to which flesh is heir Is more easily applied than many other remedies, never producing a bad effect, but always relieving pain however severe

It is prepared by Miss Sawyer, who has used it in her own extensive treatment of the sick, for nearly twenty years, with great success

The principal diseases for which this salve is recommended are Chilblains Rheumatism, Piles Scrofula, Old Ulcers, Salt Rheum, Sprains, Burns, Fever Sores, Felons, Pimples Erysipelas, Sore Eyes Barber's Itch, Deafness, Boils Ring worms, Corns, Bites of Insects, Cancers, Toothache, Earache, Sore Nipples, Baldness, Swollen Breasts, Itch Scald Head, Teething Chapped Hands, Scalds, Cuts Bruises, Croup, Cracked Lips, and Sores on Children

It never fails to cure Rheumatism if properly applied Rub it on well with the hand three times a day In several cases it has cured palsied limbs For Piles it has been discovered to be a sure remedy Persons that have been afflicted for years have been relieved by a few applications For Erysipelas it works wonders, allaying the inflammation and quieting the patient. For Chapped Hands it produces a cure immediately Let those with Salt Rheum obtain this Salve, and apply it freely, and they will find it invaluable It is good in cases of Scrofula and Tumors Cancers have been cured with it. The best Salve ever invented for Swollen Breast and Sore Nipples No way injurious but sure to afford relief Sore or Weak Eyes—Rub it on the lids gently once or twice a day Cures deafness by putting in the ears on a piece of cotton For Felons this is superior to anything known For Pimples this acts like a charm. For Burns and Scalds, apply the Salve at once and it gives immediate relief For Old Sores apply once a day

Not among the least of the invaluable properties of MISS SAWYER'S SALVE are its beneficial effects on the hair Rubbed on the scalp in five or six different parts, it promotes the growth of the hair, prevents it turning gray, and on bald spots it produces a new growth of hair No lady should be without this invaluable article as an indispensable cosmetic for the toilet. It eradicates dandruff and disease from the head and blotches and pimples from the face,

From Mrs ELIZABETH COOMBS, Brunswick.
Brunswick April 4 1867

MISS SAWYER I received your letter last evening and was very glad you concluded to let me take your Salve I think I can do well with it, and it will be quite an accommodation to my husband, as he cannot get along without it He has tried everything else and has never found anything that healed his leg as that Salve of yours, and we have both found it to be all, and even more, than you recommend it to be. We have had it in the family five or six years, and have used it for everything, and can truly say we have never found its equal I use it for a weak back and it acts like a charm. Mr Coombs has had a Fever Sore on his leg for thirty years and would be a cripple to-day if he had not found a remedy in your Salve. It keeps it healed, and takes out the inflammation, proud flesh and swelling, and does for him all that he can ask I can recommend it for a good many things that you have not, for I use it for everything I consider it invaluable in a family. If you can put this testimony together, and it can be of any service to you, you are welcome
